Gene Austin
MBC Collegiate Ministry Director

Gene Austin is the director of Collegiate Ministries for the Missouri Baptist Convention. His duties include serving campus missionaries on 26 campuses around the state; developing and resourcing church-based collegiate ministries; working with local Missouri Baptists to establish new ministries on campuses with no current MBC presence; and developing a long-term vision and strategy for saturating Missouri’s college campuses with the gospel, resulting in disciples who make disciples among college students. Austin joined the MBC in 2000 and has served in a variety of roles, including campus minister at Truman State University, collegiate regional coordinator for north Missouri, and state collegiate ministry specialist.

The Cairo, Mo., native served on a submarine in the U.S. Navy for nine years following high school graduation. He earned his bachelor of science degree in occupational education from Southern Illinois University – Carbondale. He later earned a master of divinity degree from Midwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Kansas City. He and his wife, Vickie, have seven children, including five adopted sons and daughters.
